

THE HERALD.

JNO. F. BARRETT, Editor.
WEDNESDAY, NOV. 12, 1879.

The President has named Thursday, November 27th for a day of general thanksgiving.

The thousands of Republicans held a jubilation meeting last Saturday night over the result of the recent State elections.

The News claims a larger circulation than the Herald. The Herald goes to 240 post-offices—the News to 110. How does that look?

We call the attention of farmers to the lecture of Dr. Sharp in this week's Agricultural Department, upon the novel subject of "How to get paid." It contains some valuable hints.

The Hartford Herald never heard of the cockle-bur. We are sorry. But when did you ever hear of cockle-bur?—Rockbridge News.

Cockle-bur a weed of the genus Xanthium.—Group.

We have another communication from Mr. P. E. Hocker which we had intended to publish this week, but will have to defer till next issue on account of space all filled with local news of more interest to our readers.

We would like to know who informed the Editor of the News that the Senior Editor of this paper writes from the Editorship? We are so informed at all? Is not the wish father to the thought?

A few days ago, the cattle-pens of Berlin & Hall, Cincinnati, were burned, and 1200 fat cattle were in the pens at the time. All the cattle were consumed. A total loss of $40,000 was sustained. But the whole was insured.

In the bright lexicon of the Hartford Herald we find the word "pre-ventive." To head, young man, Echo.

Pre-ventive, noun: that which prevents. Harvard.

If the Echo would use a little preventive, he would not run against such authority as the Herald and the big dictionaries.

The Kentucky Democrat, T. D. Mac-cum's new paper, came to time this week. It is a seven-column, patent inside. The publisher promises to change this feature in a few weeks when he requires a more ready use of the columns. He found it took more paper than he had calculated, hence the resort to the auxiliaries. He launches his ship with six hundred passengers loaded. Success to you, brother.

The Republicans swept the platter in all the North, in the recent elections, carrying all the States by increased majorities. In New York, the Legislature is two-thirds Republican, and Cornell, Rep., is elected by about 40,000 plurality. The balance of the State ticket is so close that it cannot be decided except by official count. The Southern States all went Democratic. Thus it seems we are to have an almost solid North and equally solid South.

Dr. C. H. Tom, for several years president of the Davess County Fair Company, was publicly named in the court house on last Saturday week by Col. John H. McHenry, Secretary of the company, who was actuated by his own design, as well as to carry out the wish of the company, who thought that Dr. Tom had observed a public insult. The doctor was well pleased with the proceedings, and has the name, a very fine gold-headed one.

CHURCH COURT opened on Monday, and was fully organized for business. The town was full of men from all parts of the county. Jockey square was crowded all day long, and considerable horse trading and a vast amount of sparring was done. It was a good day for sports, judging from the number of men in the wind. Our merchants were full of business. And among other things many called at our office and settled up. This is what we want—a subscription boom.

AMONG the questions to come before the Legislature this winter, there is, perhaps, none of more importance to the State than the State prison. Governor Blackburn has been settling the question of an overcrowded prison in a humane manner. But the relief in that direction is only temporary. Some provision must be made for greater facilities for punishing in a civilized way. The present site of the State prison is not at all suited for further extension of the old buildings. If, therefore, a new house is to be built, we are decidedly in favor of locating it in Western Kentucky. In the event that this should be done, we suggest the propriety of locating it at Rockport, in this county. This point is a very healthy location, and has the advantage of railroad and river communication. It is in direct communication with all parts of Western Kentucky, and is centrally located. Our county is rich in all natural resources to accommodate such an institution. Our best coal beds are close to Rockport, and also the district is well timbered, so that all the resources and facilities for the branches of manufacture usually carried on in prisons are convenient. Building material is abundant and cheap. The State can erect and operate a prison at Rockport with little expense as at any point in the State. We promise if the Legislature will give us a prison here to be loyal to the rule and give a liberal patronage to home institutions. We suggest the propriety of our citizens instructing our Representatives to ask for the Western State prison to be located at Rockport, Ohio county.

The Coal famine.
Kentucky coal is now selling at $8 per load of 25 bushels, in Louisville. The demand is 20,000 bushels per day, while the railroad only delivers 18,000 bushels daily.

Mr. H. M. Again.

The Echo says "most of the teachers have been paid." To head, young man, to head.

Death in a Well.

On Nov. 8th, Patton Johnson was suffocated while cleaning out a well at Thos. Williams', four miles from Elizabethtown. Those assisting him saw him when overcome with the damp and on drawing him up he was found dead and his skull, from which he died after laying in the well seven hours.

The Tobacco Market.

While everything else seems to have been rapidly advancing, tobacco has been declining in price. We do not exactly understand the cause of this difference.

The statement has been made that the total yield for this year is larger than it has been for years. We are in doubt upon that point. But, however that may be, it is certain that our farmers are expecting higher prices for their present crop than they are likely to receive. It will be a difficult year for buyers, on account of the general impression that tobacco will be in demand. There seems to be no doubt that there is a ring among shippers and large buyers to endeavor to control the market at home. We think this will be a good year to hold the crop for spring prices.

Plowed up $1,300.

A gentleman from the neighborhood, whose authority is said to be reliable, yesterday told it to friends upon the streets, that a day or two previous a negro workman upon the farm of Mr. Price, who owns the old Leigh place on the Louisville road, about eleven miles from town, while turning up an old field with a horse plow, turned up a jar, and on investigation found it contained a large amount of gold coin. It is said the negro immediately dropped his work and made for the house, not doubting that as he could not carry it with ease on his find he would work with more. What was done at the house is not known; but the gentleman who brought the news said the man took the money to Massie and there displayed it. It was counted and the amount found to be $1,300. The money was all gold and the pieces of all denominations. It had the appearance of having been in the ground a long time, and the date of some of the pieces showed it to be very old.—Richmond News.

Since the above find, horses and plows are in demand. The whole of the Purchase will be plowed this winter, we presume.

County Judges What They Get for Dispensing Justice.

Judge Newton has received letters from various judges in Southern Kentucky and among other items of interest brought out, we may mention the matter of salary. For the information of our readers we give the following list, showing salaries of Judges, Attorneys and the number of voters.

Davess—Judge $1,000, Prosecuting Attorney $500, voters 5,100.
Christian county—Judge $800, Attorney 600, voters 6,500.
Warren—Judge $600 Attorney $500 voters 6,000.
Logan—Judge $500 Attorney $500 voters 5,500.
Barren—Judge $500 Attorney $500 voters 4,000.
Hopkins—Judge $400 Attorney $500 voters 1,500.
McLean—Judge $500 Attorney $500 voters 2,500.
Grayson—Judge $200 Attorney $200 voters 2,500.
Butler—about $200 voters 2,400.
Ohio—Judge $300 Attorney $400 voters 4,100.
Breckenridge—Judge $375 Attorney 262 voters 3,500.

In the above list it appears that Logan county has fewer voters than Ohio and pays $600. Barren, voters less, salary more. Davess pays over three times as much salary as Ohio and has one-third more voters. McLean, voters less than one-half as many and pays $500 to the Judge and Attorney. But we have the satisfaction of beating Butler county, and are also on a par with Grayson.

A CONFIDING KENTUCKIAN.

How He Purchased a Watch and Chain for a Dollar.

There is a man living in McLean county, Ky., who ought to know better than to believe every advertisement he reads regarding lotteries, etc. A T. Bryant read in a newspaper the advertisement of a Chicago firm who proposed to sell their magnificent solar-graph watch, a wonderful instrument that would keep correct time in any and all parts of the world, self-adjusting, self-regulating, and needing no attention at all; a machine of perpetual motion, and the most wonderful machine ever invented, and the whole thing, with a heavy gold-plated chain, and all to be sent to any part of the United States for the small sum of $1—when he saw this he grabbed in the bait and sent the dollar, and of course received the watch in a tin box with a sun-dial and a small compass inside, the whole thing appended to one end of a small brass chain, and was about ten cents. Bryant was wretched, but he had not learned not to equal, and yesterday the solar-graph watch and the following letter were received by Mayor Harrison:

BRASSY, McLEAN Co., Ky., Oct. 8, 79.

To the City Authorities.

"GENTLEMEN—I herewith inclose a sun-dial that has been sent to me in place of a watch. The out and advertisement enclosed. It is a swindle and I think proper to put a stop to it all such, if there is any law for it. Please confer a favor by attending to this for me, and have the watch sent as proposed, or the money, and oblige, A. T. BRYANT."

Chicago Inter-Ocean.

How could he expect such a valuable watch as described? He evidently wants something for nothing himself and got beat at his own game. Bryant, your dollar is gone. We have heard it said that "a fool and his money soon part."

He was the first pitiful on record. He pitched the Ark within and without. The game was finally called off on account of the pain. How do you Noah if was?

PERSONAL.

Mrs. L. Unchetter is improving. Master James Phillips is very sick. Mrs. E. R. Murrell is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Grayson County Gossip.

MILLWOOD, Nov. 8, 1879.

Editor Herald:

This place has become the "base" shipping point on the P. & E. R. R. We shipped last month seventy-eight cars of staves, still shipping three and four cars per day. Have 200,000 waiting shipment. How is that for business. Mr. Dehaven, of Breckinridge county, will soon erect a new tobacco warehouse at this place, which has long been needed.

H. K. Wells, Jas. Stevens and party, of Owensboro, started yesterday to Hickory Mills, on Noyon river, on a big deer hunt—much success.

H. C. Crawford returned from the city last week, with a mammoth stock of dry goods and a lot of furniture—some one is going to marry soon. It's Clay.

Mrs. H. K. Wells, returned from Louisville, Sunday where she has been visiting friends.

Mrs. Lydia Ramey, of Gall's, is visiting parents and friends at this place.

Miss Mollie McMill and Mrs. Jane Lecky, of Elizabethtown, returned home Wednesday. They have been visiting Mrs. H. K. Wells.

Where is our friend, Ulla. Come in next week and give us a blow, Ulla.

CLARA.

Warren County people and things.

SHELBYVILLE, KY.

Editor Herald:

Not long since, I visited friends relatives and the place of my boyhood, old Warren, and thought of a few items would be of interest to your readers. I found my father, Samuel M. Kerby, alive, and now, well and hearty. He stands erect and walks about actively, although 70 years old last April. He was born in South Carolina, but came to Warren county, when a small boy. He served under General Harrison in the war of 1812, and his memory of the scenes and incidents of that day and time is very vivid and correct. Mrs. Nancy Kerby, my father's sister, is still living and is now 80 years old. Her husband, Leonard Kerby, is a cousin of my father. He was a soldier in the war of 1812 under Harrison, and also fought under old Hickory Jackson at the celebrated battle of New Orleans. Jackson's brother, a brother of my father, is also 72, both living and looking well.

Miss Lizzie Johnson, a daughter of James Johnson, is nine years old and weighs 125 pounds. She is, nevertheless, an intelligent, beautiful girl. These people are all citizens of Warren county.

The crops are quite short in Warren, on account of drought. They had no corn at all for eight weeks, which has shortened the crops of all kinds about one-third; with tobacco almost an entire failure.

With wishes for the success of the Herald, I remain yours, S. D. K.

The Human Pulse.

The human pulse has in all ages been consulted as an index of health or disease. It is a kind of dial within us that gives us both the measure of time and of health. The pulse of a person in health beats about seventy strokes in a minute, and the ordinary term of life is about seventy years. In this seventy years the pulse of a temperate person beats two billion, five hundred and seventy-four million, four hundred and forty thousand times. If no actual disorganization should happen, a driven person might live until his pulse beats this number of times; but by the constant stimulus of ardent spirits, or by pulse-quickening food, the pulse becomes greatly accelerated, and the two billion five hundred and forty thousand pulsations are performed in a little more than half the ordinary term of human life, and life goes out in forty or forty-five years instead of seventy. This application of numbers is given to show that the acceleration of these forces diminishes the term of human life.

Josh Billings on Marriage.

Sam people marry because they think wisdom will be secured. They had five to wonder how the stock holds out. Sam marry to get rid of themselves, and discover that the game was out. Two could play at the same old game. Sam marry for love without a cent in their pocket, nor a friend in the world, nor a drop of pedigree. This looks desperate, but is the strength of the game. Sam marry for love, and then set down and think it carefully over. Sam think it carefully over first, and then set down and marry.

No man can tell just exactly what he will get up with his foolish calico. No man can tell just exactly what calico has made up his mind to do. Calico don't know herself. Dry goods of all kinds is a child of circumstance.

State Jokes.

Out on a fool—riding on an ostrich.

Should the song of the pullet over her first egg be called an egg-stistical lay.

A number of dogs were shot in the east end, says an Ohio paper. Served them right—let them keep their east end out of danger.

"Oh for a thousand bugles," sang the boy in the sugar bogland.

Ohio Circuit Court, November Term 1879.

Notice is hereby given that plaintiffs have filed in the Ohio Circuit Court their petition for a decree of said Court to authorize and empower the said Margaret M. Arment to convey, sell, and convey, for her own benefit, any property she may own or acquire free from the claims or debts of her husband, and to make contracts, sue and be sued as a single woman, and to trade in her own name, and dispose of her property by will or deed.

Another Kentucky War.

War has been declared in the usually peaceful region known as No Creek. There have been three engagements up to the present time. But no lives lost. G. W. Bennett recently appointed D. H. Chapman his agent to sell a certain lot of stave timber, and Mr. Chapman sold the timber to the agent of Mr. Ballantine, of Calhoun, who erected a shanty and began operations. But Bennett, for what reason no one can tell, has determined to prevent the workmen from proceeding. He has charged the fort three times with a shot-gun. What the end will be yet to be seen.

Notice.

We have in our possession a copy of "A treatise on the Horse and his Diseases" by Dr. B. J. Kendall, of Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. It is nicely illustrated with 34 engravings and is full of useful horse knowledge. Every horse owner should have a copy of it. We can furnish the books at 25 cents a copy. Ask to see it.

A BIG DRUNK.

Of course we do not insinuate that the readers of this paper ever get drunk but people sometimes do, you know, and then, the next day—early in the morning—somebody feels like he had "a big head and a full stomach," and he don't care to say anything about it either. Oh how that head aches, and how dry! Some are sick—oh, so sick, and vomit, too (not cologne either) and become so hot about the stomach. More water and better water, they cry. There is an infallible remedy for all such cases. It cools the stomach, quiets the thirst, relieves the headache, acts freely upon the bowels, opens the pores of the skin, and at the same time a most delicious and sparkling beverage, just as pleasant as soda water. Try it one time, you who are sufferers. The article is known as Bailey's Saline Aperient, and no man or woman should fail to keep it at all times.

MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTTS.

At one time considered much trouble in her public affairs, which became quite serious. It appears that her Royal Highness was attacked with a spell of chills, which baffled the physicians of the Queen causing so long a delay that she was accused of negligence. A grand consultation of the physicians was held, much scientific research resorted to, and a combination agreed upon which proved successful in curing the Queen at once and permanently. With a slight variation, as an improvement, relieving the compound of all objectionable features, and the addition of others directed to the stomach and liver, Bay's Ague Tonic is composed of the same articles. It never fails to cure promptly and in the very worst cases of chills and fever. 45 cents.

Get the Bours!

The close confinement of all factory work, gives the operatives pallid faces, poor appetites, languid, miserable feelings, poor blood, inactive liver, kidneys and urinary troubles, and all the physical and mental in the world cannot help them unless they get out of doors or use Hop Bitters, the purest and best remedy, especially for such cases, have a grand chance of health, and saving their cheeks in them. They cost but a trifle. See another column. 45 cents.

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continued self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this deadly condition is Allen's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

RECEIVED, N. Y., June 13th 1879.

You Cannot Afford to Delay.

If you want to save your credit, cost of levy, cost of advertising, commission for selling, and thirty per cent. interest from date of sale until redeemed, or lose your land, and also save yourself the mortification of having your name in your county papers as a delinquent tax-payer, you must pay up before the 1st of December next, as I will on the first Monday in December sell the lands of all tax-payers not paid up by then. The above especially applies to guardians, executors and administrators. C. W. PHILLIPS, Sheriff Ohio County.

Notice.

The sale made by me as assignee of W. W. Austin, of the tract of land on Green river, known as the Margaret Morton part of the R. L. Morton land to Arch Ballack, having been set aside by the bankruptcy court, I will offer said land for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the Court-house door in Hartford, Ky., on Monday, the 1st day of December, 1879, on the following terms: $100 cash in hand, and the balance on a credit till the first of January, 1880, with bond and security and ten on the land till the purchase money is all paid. A. B. BAKER, Assignee of W. W. Austin, bankrupt.

Good Brick for Sale.

We have about 100,000 good brick for sale on the premises of L. A. W. Carson, 3 miles from Hartford near No Creek church. Will sell them at a reasonable price. 1 FOSTER, L. A. W. CARSON.

Almost Young Again.

"My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system, headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. Nephritis or medical aid did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady in Pennsylvania, R. I.

MARRIED—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas Southard, in Ohio county, Ky., Nov. 7, by Rev. J. T. Casseber, Mr. J. W. Shoulders to Miss M. F. Southard.

Mrs. Sallie A. Stevens, of No Creek, received a very serious wound last week. She was milking a cow, and the cow made a pass at a dog, stepping upon Mrs. Stevens' foot, inflicting a severe and painful wound.

An infant child of I. P. Manker, which had been left at L. A. W. Carson's to be cared for, died on Tuesday night of last week. It was about five months old. Its mother died when it was but a few weeks old.

A certain baby looked very sweet the other night, but it would have looked much sweeter if it had had on one of those weeping-willow heads. You can get them at Anderson's Bazar.

Beaver Dam is rapidly improving. They have a nice new school-house just completed, and several new buildings have been erected this year, and there are some three or four now under way. It's one of the liveliest towns we know of.

A spiritualistic medium is that nude of Mr. Z. Wayne Griffin's. Two young men were driving it through the streets on Sunday, when it suddenly began tossing its heels in the air—much as a jumping table. The boys got out and so did the nude.

On October 28th, Alice Francis, daughter of Q. S. Southard, aged six years, died of diphtheria and other throat troubles. She was the idol of the family. Francis was a bright little girl, and will be missed by the family. The family have the sympathy of the community and the writer. J. M.

Mr. U. M. Everly, of Point Pleasant, has found a peculiar phenomenon in his coal mine. Some two inches deep in the clay at the bed of the mine, there is a layer of coal about two inches thick. The thin strata is of a peculiar bright black color, and burns well. We never have met with this feature in coal before. Why? One of our scientific miners explain the nature of this thin seam.

We requested a farmer in town last Monday to subscribe for the Herald, but was met with the excuse that times were hard, and that he could not afford it. That same man had money enough to buy whisky to get drunk before night, while he did. Such is life.

Miss Lucie Hieronymus is in town teaching the young people to trip the "light fantastic."—Hartford Herald.

Get a ginger-cake there isn't a scholar in the class can pronounce the name inside of two minutes.—Henderson News.

We take the bet, but suppose the editor of the News would prefer something a "leech" stronger.

A list of letters remaining in the Post Office at Hartford, and if not taken out before the 1st of December, will be sent to the Dead Letter Office: James W. Carter, John W. Chinn, Marshal Duke, J. Captain S. K. Cox opened his hospitable home on Friday night last, to the friends and acquaintances of Misses Fannie Brotherton and Birdie Pulliam. At an early hour the parlors were filled and everybody was happy. Those who enjoyed the privilege of attending, return their thanks to the Captain and his amiable wife for the happy event.

The shooting editor went squirrel hunting last week and he had not sufficient wadding. He found a temperance lecture in his pocket, which had been sent in for publication, and as a last resort he used this lecture for wadding, when, lo, he never failed once in killing what he shot at. The lecture certainly had force in it.

Thomas Brothers have a specimen of potatoes at the HENRIAN office, which surpass anything in the potato line. They are larger and more shapes than is usual. The sandy soil of Rough creek flats is adapted for the culture of the potato. Thousands of barrels of this valuable commodity could be shipped with profit every year. Why don't somebody try the experiment?

Mr. Silas Shown, of Ohio county, and Miss Lucy Moseley, of Glennville, were married last Thursday. Miss Lucy Moseley is a niece of Uncle Charles Lawton. Mr. Shown does not always patronize home institutions. There are lots of girls here who would no doubt like to encourage home talent in the matrimonial line. The above couple were married by Rev. G. J. Beem.

B. E. Richardson is getting out the most lot of walnut logs we have seen for a long time. They will range from 20 inches to three feet in size. He also has 100 fine poplar logs ready to run the first water, and will run 400 poplars in all this winter. His logs are all first-class poplar and walnut. We trust he may realize a handsome profit out of them.

Too much law. Our citizens will be better off when more time is spent in developing their educational, agricultural interests, and less in law.

Judge R. S. Moseley sold his two shares of stock in the Bender Coal Company last week for $2,500. He sold one share to Jas. A. Thomas and the other to Messrs. Thomas, Chapman, Walker and Collins. This would indicate that the Bender Mine was not dead, but have been sleeping. The above Collins have been doing a fine business this season. The cities on the Ohio river have a ground-hog race on their hands—out of coal and must have it.

The constant exit of some of the "boys" at each drop of the curtain, in Mendelssohn Hall last night, provoked this remark from a young lady, who sat just to our right: "It is hardly disgusting to see men 'bounced' out of the house at each clink of the stage bell, and then come 'dragging their slow lengths' back while the show is in progress. I don't see why they don't imitate the example of mothers of small children, and bring their bottles with them."—Henderson News.

McHENRY, KY.

McLean county has a "teachers' musical institute." They met on Saturday before the 5th Sunday in this month, at Mt. Pleasant church, near Glennville. There are some twenty teachers connected with the convention, who meet semi-occasionally, to have a good time and practice their lungs.

The first Quarterly Meeting of the Hartford Circuit M. E. Church, South, was held at No Creek church last Saturday and Sunday, and was quite a successful meeting in every respect. The collections reported by the stewards, were liberal, considering the closeness of money matters. The next meeting will be held here embracing the 2nd Sabbath in February, 1880.

The Hartford House has recently been repaired and fitted up in excellent style. The office and saloon have been repapered and whitewashed, and looks quite stylish. The saloon is furnished well, and surpasses anything of the kind ever seen before in Hartford. Jim Tom is always at his post, and Moore than willing to serve you.

The following is the list of Jurors in the Circuit Court, now in session: Wm. Stewart, Thos. L. Hardin, John M. Bishop, Wilber F. Condit, Mason L. Jones, Samuel Keown, J. C. Barnett, T. C. Reader, Joseph Layton, Wm. Felix, Joseph Ford, Sam Morton, J. W. Magan, C. W. Butler, Virgil Turner, Jackson Yates, J. P. Stevens, John D. Miller, George N. Smith, William Brown, Birch Felix, Weaver Austin, O. B. Chapman, Jordan H. Haynes.

The physicians report that the health of Owensboro and Daviess county is better now than was ever known before at this season of the year. Prominent men in the profession say the health of this section has been growing much better for the past five years, and unless there is a reaction some of the physicians will have to seek other territories for a livelihood. This is the most wholesome item we have chronicled for some time.—Henderson News.

A number of gentlemen of Hartford have associated themselves together in a magazine club. By each member subscribing $5, they purchase a list of the best magazines published. And by a system of rotation, each member of the club has the benefit of the entire list, at the cost of $5. We suggest that other clubs might be gotten up in the town or county, and greatly increase the love and knowledge of literature among the people.

The citizens of town had a first-class scare last Wednesday night. A lamp exploded in the grocery of Foster & Hill, and such a yell as emanated from some one's back, was seldom heard. We have been unable to learn who it was, but we are watching the death list for his name, as it is scarcely possible that he will survive that yell. An excited crowd soon gathered at the scene of the fire—some with buckets—some with nothing and others had their hands in their pockets. The explosion set a lot of fire-works on fire, which caused quite a popping. Mr. Foster smothered the burning lamp with Bill Foreman's sheet. We have not learned the damage to the sheet. The lesson of the fire has been taken by two business houses in that locality—they have insured.

Robert H. Barnett died on Monday at half past three o'clock. Robert was one of our very best young men, and his death is a very serious and unexpected loss. He left a young wife and infant daughter, with whom the large circle of friends and relatives deeply sympathize. He was the oldest son of Morris H. Barnett, and the first to be taken of a large family of children. After the death of his father, Robert, although but a boy, with the aid of his younger brothers, Sam T., and Matthew S., carried on the farm, making a good support for his mother and sisters. He had been married about two years, and was making a fine start in life. We express our deepest sympathies with the bereaved family in this sad affliction.

Among our most enterprising farming districts, the neighborhood between Hartford and Beaver Dam, is worthy of mention. Mr. Riley's new fence, and improvements on barn and premises, gives his place a wide-awake appearance. Next we pass the maple grove home of Mr. James Collins, which has an air of comfort in its very appearance. In Mr. Collins' fields we see a fine grade of stock, which proves him to be a successful grainger. We pass a spacious farm-house on the Williams farm. You notice that at the farm of Mr. Henry McKill, further on, the elegant mansion of Mr. Samuel Sowders stands in a wreath of shrubbery. Mr. Sowders has put a most elegant fence about his premises—that of the yard being painted in fine style. His gardens are wholly protected from the chickens, and I believe he could easily risk eggs watermelons inside of that picket fence. Our attention is next arrested by a modern school-house which is certainly an improvement upon our Kentucky school buildings.

This house reflects credit upon that community. And the first thing we know the Beaver Dam neighborhood will be proud of any part of the county. Success to you, gentlemen.

Do not fail to witness the Grand Spectacle.

Prof. Tice has informed us that on tomorrow (Thursday) night, there will be the greatest fall of meteors witnessed since 1833. Let us all be on the alert, and see if his predictions are verified.
